General information on the camps organized by InformaGiovani

InformaGiovani organizes its camps always in co-operation with a local partner which is mentioned in the description. The partner is responsible for the work plan.

Dates and venue confirmation InformaGiovani camps are opened to placement only after each of them has a specific campcoordinator appointed.

The final list of camps will be published in the end of March.

Working time In each camp, work is organized on a 5 days per week base. Normally the week-end is free but, according to the task assigned to the volunteers, it may happen that also Saturday or Sunday are working days. In such case, volunteers will have free days during the week. Daily work can be, according to weather conditions and the needs of the camp, from 5 to 7 hours.

Age of volunteers Due to insurance reasons, the age of volunteers accepted in IG camps is from 16 to 65 years, but not all camps, due to decision of the local partners or to the working situation, are open to volunteers in this ageframe. In each camp we clearly mention the actual age limits for the specific situation. When we get applications from volunteers over 35, we inform them of the possibility to be "old" in "young" groups and give the possibility to take a tough decision. In any case, volunteers under 18 must apply attaching to the application form a declaration released by responsible kin or guardian authorising the volunteer him/herself to go abroad and to take part in the camp. The declaration can be attached at a later stage, but for sure volunteers under 18 of age won't be accepted if the declaration is not provided together with ID of the signing person.

Insurance All volunteers joining IG camps are insured by general insurance scheme subscribed by InformaGiovani with CAES (Italian Consortium of Ethical Insurance). This scheme covers:

Service Volontaire International, asbl
30, Rue des Capucins – 1000 Bruxelles

🇧🇪 : +32 (0) 2 888 67 13 🇫🇷 : +33 (0)3 66 72 90 20 🇨🇭 : +41 (0)3 25 11 07 31

- Medical assistance (up to 1.500 euro) only for causes connected to the workcamp
- Death
- Permanent handicap resulting from an injury incurred during the workcamp
- Liability toward third parts (in case of damages to persons or goods caused by the volunteer during the camp, the insurance will cover all related costs), up to 50.000 Euro This scheme does not cover travel risk and travel days. Information on the insurance system is provided to each volunteer together with the infosheet.

NO Extra fee For 2016 season, volunteers joining InformaGiovani camps are not required to pay any extra fee.

What to bring In each camp organized by InformaGiovani, volunteers must bring the following things:

- Sleeping bag
- European Sanitary Card (if they are from one of the EU 28 countries) Other specific items needed in each camp are mentioned in the infosheet sent to volunteers.

Late arrival/Early leaving Each volunteer is expected to arrive at the camp place on the first day and leave on the last day. In case of exceptional circumstances, he/she can arrive one day earlier or later and can leave one day earlier, informing in advance the camp leader or the contact person mentioned in the infosheet. Information on arrival/departure time is to be sent to the camp leader no later than one week before the camp. Last minute applications/inscriptions are not involved in this rule. One day of early arrival and one day of late leaving are not subject to any extra fee or other cost, provided the volunteer has to take care of his/her food.

Extra days Only if previously communicated to and agreed with the camp leader or the placement team of InformaGiovani, and only when technically possible due to hosting place, the volunteer can stay more days for personal need and/or tourism. In such a case an extra fee of 5 Euro per each extra day is foreseen and is to be paid at arrival at the camp site. The volunteer remains the only responsible for his/her food. Extra days are not covered by our insurance.

VISA issues Volunteers from countries whose citizens are required to have a VISA to enter Italy, must provide the placement team of IG with the visa information form available at <http://1drv.ms/1WU3DTy> as soon as they get confirmation of acceptance in one IG camp. IG team will then provide an invitation letter and full assistance to volunteers in their dealing with Italian authorities. Copy of the insurance contract is attached to the invitation letter.

Please note that:

- some Embassies or Consulates or VISA offices, require also info about travel insurance and about travel tickets. Together with the invitation letter, we will provide you the copy of our general insurance contract, but please be ready to provide information on travel at any stage of the VISA issue procedure.
- the invitation letter is normally sent only by email. It is upon the volunteer's responsibility to check if an original is needed and to provide IG placement team with correct info to delivery it. IG staff is able to interact only with Italian authorities. It is therefore upon the volunteer's responsibility to check what is needed in case of transit in other countries than Italy or in case a Schengen visa is required to a country other than Italy.

Dates and venue confirmation InformaGiovani camps are opened to placement only after each of them has a specific campcoordinator appointed.

Final list of camps will be published in the end of March.

The area around the farm is one of the most beautiful places in Italy; mountains, waterfalls, hiking trails, lakes, wildlife, and many interesting ruins, churches, and castles are easily accessible and the area is not filled with tourists like other parts of Italy. The farm is close to the town of Sora (about 35,000 inhabitants) where you can eat at local restaurants, stroll along the lively main street, visit the numerous shops, cafes, and pubs, use the internet, or go to the open air market on Thursday mornings. The farm itself is a large property where guests can roam around, eat fresh fruit, spend time with the animals, relax in the shade of an olive tree, or hike around the trails in our beautiful forest.

Work description: Volunteers work 4 hours and a half in the morning. In the afternoon they will be free. Help also needed with the preparation of lunch and dinner together with the hosting family. Help in the morning consist of work in vegetable gardening, general maintenance around the organic farm, pruning, harvesting vegetables, weeding and cleaning. In general terms volunteers will be involved in the everyday work of a traditional Italian farm.

Accommodation and food: Accommodation will be in dorms in the farm. There is one dorm for males and one for females.

Bathroom with hot water shower is available. Volunteers will eat with the family and staff of the farm. They will also help cooking

Special requirements: Bring warm clothes and comfortable working shoes, rain coat and sleeping bag. Volunteers should be motivated and interested in organic farming and learning about Italian culture.

Location and free time: The farm is located in the National Park of Abruzzo. One of the most wild and stunning natural park of Italy where volunteers can do trekking, walks etc. Rome is also reachable and can be visited during the free day. Please note that volunteers will have only one free day every five days of work. Yet all afternoons will be free for them to relax and explore the surroundings. <http://www.italyfarmstay.com/index.html>
