Partenaire: World 4 you

- History

World4U is a non-profit NGO; it was founded in 1998 as a group of young enthusiastic people with a vision that international communication among youth has a tremendous potential in raising intercultural understanding, tolerance and creation peaceful life in the world-wide community. In the summer of 2000 Voluntary Exchange Russia World4U started to exist as an official NGO. Now we are one of the biggest voluntary organizations in Russia. World4u represents about 2500 creative and bright individuals who are united by the idea of volunteering and cross-cultural understanding. We have partners in various regions of Russia.

The specialties of volunteering in Russia

- Invitation & Visa to Russia

As the most of the foreigners need an entrance visa to Russia we recommend international volunteers to send their applications 1 or 2 months before the project starts.

Our organization provides official invitation letter for getting visa, which we forward by post or fax to the sending organization of a volunteer. Volunteers have to visit www.russianembassy.net for a full list of addresses and telephone numbers of Russian embassies and consulates and find all the rules and necessary documents to apply for Russian visa in every particular country there. We kindly ask you to encourage your volunteers to do that the sooner the better.

- Long distances in Russia

Russia is a truly big country. Normal average travel distance here is "one night train ride", which means about 7-9 hours by train any direction from Moscow, the main railway hub in the west of the country. The train transportation in Russia is cheap comparing to Europe, and we'll also make estimation on the costs in the travel directions in the infosheets. Please, keep in mind huge Russian distances and ask your volunteers to plan the arrival to Russia 2-3 days prior the project starts, in order to get the meeting point on time.

- Language

Foreign volunteers should be ready that English is not as well spoken in Russia as in Europe. Also remember, please, there is Cyrillic alphabet in Russia and most of the signs have no Latin equivalent.

Workcamps and MTV Terms:

- Camps and MTV types:

Most of our camps in Russia are multi-type camps – combining different activities and communication with different people.

RENO – renovation/restoration work, usually connected with masonry, manual work, painting, carpentry and other minor assignments without any special professional requirements

SOCI – social work with socially disadvantaged people/children/orphans

AGRI – work in agriculture, mostly help for monasteries and orphanages. Volunteers work in the gardens, help in harvesting and cleaning the fields, grass cutting, preparing firewood etc.

ENVI – ecological / environmental work – cleaning forest, setting up ecological signs, recycling master classes

KIDS – working with children, usually 3-16 y.o. as an animator or organizer of free time activities, games or language workshops

FEST – work as a part of a prep-team / technical group of some festival / celebration / exhibition

ART – project connected with arts and crafts developing activities

ARCH – working in an archeological expedition together with professionals in the field

- Age limits are usually from 18 y.o. and older, without any upper limit, but in some particular projects there can be special age requirements.
- Insurance is NOT provided by World4U, but basic medical assistance is always available. Anyway it's good idea to have all the medicine you are used to from you home country as you know all the weaknesses of your health and what pills normally help you.
- Workcamp language of all World4U camps is English, and, of course, the knowledge of Russian is welcome.

- Running the camp (housekeeping tasks, help with meal preparation)
- Also we organise Islands Cleaning Events: group of our volunteers (rubbish tream) goes by boat to some popular island often visited by tourists and clean it up from rubbish, install info boards.

Working hours: 3-8 hours/day, however it can vary depending on weather, current tasks and number of people. When it's dry and hot we focus on patrolling and observation of the area. Each volunteer should be ready to move if the alarm appears. It is important to keep in mind that the main goal of this camp is to detect and extinguish forest fires - it is priority task and rest of work, day routines and discipline are built around it.

Accommodation & Food: Since there are already 8 years the project exists, we've manage to organize our life in the camp in most convenient way.

We have electricity from the generator: every tree or two days batteries, accumulators and other items may be charged. There is free wi-fi and even water tab made by our ingenious volunteers. We use organic hand-made wash up liquid or purchase eco-friendly one. We separate our rubbish and transport it to St.Petersburg for recycling.

The laundry can be done in the lake or we have several basins and soap.

There is sauna-tent with a stove and hot stones. We use wood to heat it up and make washing process comfortable and pleasant. The wood is taken from the nearest island, which was affected by the fire about 10 years ago and has plenty of dead dry trees.

There are tents for 2-4 people in the camp. Please, bring your own mat and sleeping bag. If you have your own tent, please bring it with you. If not, we will manage to find the tent for you but be ready for neighbors.

Food is cooked on bonfire and on gas stove. Many of our participants are vegetarians and all the dishes made without meat, but if you like you may add can-meat or fish to your plate. We use water from the lake for cooking.

This year we've published Ladoga Cook Book, which is about how we make our menu more interesting and diverse within the limits of low budget and remoteness from supermarkets. But anyway you should be ready for porridge! There is no way to avoid it 😊

And of course if you want bring some specialties from your country you're warmly welcome!

ATTENTION! Alcohol in the camp is strictly forbidden!

Location & Leisure: Ladoga is one of the biggest fresh water lake in Europe. It is situated in the Republic of Karelia in the north-west of Russia. Closest big city is Saint. Petersburg which locates about 2,5 hours by train South direction.

The camp is based on the island Pieni-Hepposaari in 30-40 minutes from the mainland by boat. One of our coordinators will assist the new volunteers with arrival to the camp.

Free time activities: The amount of free time strongly depends on weather. There may be three days raining, and that case volunteers have plenty of free time to sleep, read, chat, or play games. We like gather around bonfire for singing with guitar.

For newcomers we organise different trainings and practical seminars:

- Sailing a boat;
- How to work with water pumps and different equipment;
- Fire trainings;
- Orienteering: how to use GPS, work with maps, define azimuth;
- First aid;
- Knots;
- What to do if you or your fellow dropped overboard? It's literally practical;
- Radio: how to use walkie-talkie, number codes.

This year in beginning of July we will be hosting Greenpeace firefighters training camp. It's an educational event annually happening in our camp. It is aimed for those who already involved in firefighting protection or want organise volunteer group in their regions, so the event gathers participants from different parts of Russia. The volunteers may joins Greenpeace sessions if the weather allows it.

The nature is very specific Nordic type and it's incredibly beautiful! Sometimes you may spend hours just watching the waves or observing birds. Also swimming is nice especially if you like cold water☺ In July it's usually warm enough already for people, not only for seals who are our close neighbors.

IMPORTANT: In the hot time there might be a lot of fires which means free time for sleep only.

Requirements: For those who have no camping experience, life at the island far away from civilization without some regular facilities may be too tough and stressful. Also the weather may be severe and unpredictable what should be taken into consideration.

As the activities taken at the firefighter's camp associates with danger, the insurance is obligatory!

To sum everything up, for this project we seek for motivated volunteers with outdoor camping experience, ready for challenging and sometimes very demanding conditions. Also it's better to have at least basic knowledge of Russian language or be ready to learn it right in the camp. Also we ask the applicants to send the letter of motivation.

Language: English, knowledge of Russian or the willingness to learn it would be very helpful

Airport, train/bus station: The nearest terminal is in Saint-Petersburg where we usually have the meeting point. From Saint-Petersburg 2 hours by train to Priozersk, then by bus or by taxi to the boat station where our boat will wait for volunteers in agreed time. 30-40 minutes takes the trip to the camp island by boat.

Summary: Volunteers will learn how to fight fires and get other handy skills – orientation, boat piloting, first aid while living on an island in the middle of a fantastically beautiful lake in Karelia region.
